

DIXON EVENING TELEGRAPH.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF DIXON, BY ACT OF CITY COUNCIL.

Dixon Telegraph Sixtieth Year

DIXON ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, JUNE 9 1911.

{Daily Twenty-Eighth Year No. 135

HANDLED OVER HALF MILLION PIECES MAIL

DIXON POSTOFFICE FORCE TABULATES THE COUNT FOR MONTH OF MAY.

TOTAL HANDLINGS 1,699,563

Postmaster Frye Pleased With Report—Exceeds Sterling by Over 1,000.

The employees of the Dixon post-office during the month of May handled over half a million pieces of mail, and these pieces were given enough handling to make the grand total of handling in the office for that period 1,699,563. The count, which it was necessary to make every day and tabulate, showed the classification of the different pieces of mail that were received and sent out and also the same classifications for the mail handled by both the city and rural carriers. The final statement for the month which has been completed and will be sent to the postal authorities at Washington at once showed:

Outgoing mail, first class, 88,345; other classes, 44,269. Total outgoing mail, 132,612.

Incoming mail, first class, 102,163; other classes, 109,520. Total, 211,683.

Handled by Carriers. The total number of pieces handled by the carriers during the month was:

Incoming, first class, 63,164; other classes, 54,835. Total, 117,999.

Outgoing, first class, 37,775; other classes, 1,326. Total, 39,101.

Rural carriers, all classes, 65,126.

Better Than Sterling. The report shows that on the average the business done through the local office is better than that done through the Sterling office. The total number of pieces received in Sterling was 210,208, over 1,000 less than received in this city.

The Sterling report shows a greater number of pieces sent out than from the Dixon office, but the increase in Sterling's case is due in a great measure to the large number of pieces mailed by the factories in Rock Falls, which mail their catalogs, etc., in the Sterling office instead of in the Rock Falls office, thereby keeping the Rock Falls office down. In fact the postmaster of the Rock Falls office had stated that if all the mail of the factories was sent through his office it would mean an increase in salary in a short time.

The success and accuracy of the count in the local postoffice is due very greatly to the care of Thomas Hults, who was placed in charge of the count by Postmaster Frye, and who has devoted careful attention to it. The average is a very good one and Postmaster Frye is well pleased with the showing of the office.

REV. JOHN C. SAGE NOW AT KEOKUK, IA.

FORMER PASTOR OF ST. LUKE'S AT DIXON TAKES NEW CHARGE.

The following dispatch from Keokuk, Ia., appeared in a Burlington paper Saturday concerning the popular former pastor of St. Luke's church of this city:

Rev. John C. Sage who became pastor of St. John's Episcopal church on Sunday, arrived from Dubuque where he had a successful pastorate nine and a half years. The new rector is a man of pleasing personality and his success in local church affairs is assured.

Rev. Sage comes in response to a call extended two months ago by the local church. He accepted the call and his transfer was sanctioned by the bishop. The call became effective June 2.

Mrs. Samuel Stiles of Prophets-town, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Albert O'Malley.

BRICK FAMINE HAS BEEN RELIEVED

A CARLOAD OF BRICK ARRIVES FROM STREATOR—NO CHICAGO BRICK YET.

The brick famine, which has kept building operations in Dixon at a standstill for some time, was relieved partially this morning when a carload of brick arrived from Streator. This brick, however, is more expensive than the Chicago product and therefore those who contemplate building are hoping that the strike in Chicago brickyards will be settled soon, as the reports state that such is the case.

ONE TIME MERCHANT OF DIXON HERE

WM. E. SHELDON OF BOSTON IS CALLING ON OLD FRIENDS TODAY.

Wm. E. Sheldon and wife of Boston are here and are guests of Mr. Sheldon's aunt, Mrs. Louis Wood of Franklin Grove. Mr. Sheldon was formerly in the furniture business in Dixon and left 22 years ago for Boston, where he went into business. He is here now looking up old friends and swapping recollections after all these years and is on his way to Los Angeles where he expects to go into business in a suburb of the metropolis.

EAR CORN IS IN LOCAL MARKET

Local grocers are selling the first ear corn of the season, which was delivered to the market yesterday. The luxury is selling for 25 cents a dozen and those who have tried it say the flavor is excellent and the ears are well filled.

WILL SPEAK AT ROCK FALLS BANQUET

Dev. Fred D. Stone of the Methodist church will be in Rock Falls this evening as the principal speaker at the banquet of the Rock Falls High School Alumni.

COUNTY BOARD WILL MEET MONDAY

The board of supervisors will hold their regular June meeting Monday and County Clerk Thompson wishes to notify all who have bills against the county to be sure and turn them in to him before noon on Monday. A great deal of business is expected to come before the board at the coming meeting.

SUFFERING FROM BLOOD POISON

Dr. C. H. Bokhof is suffering from blood poisoning in his left hand and as a result of the infection he will not be able to attend to his professional duties for two or three days. The doctor infected his hand while attending to a case in which infection had started. He has given the hand proper attention and fears no serious outcome.

MRS. ENGLE HELD TO GRAND JURY

AUTOPSY SHOWS HER DAUGHTER DID NOT DIE BY DROWNING.

BODY THROWN INTO THE RIVER

Reason for Girl's Sudden Death Is Not Yet Explained—Woman Is Locked Up.

Sterling, Ill., June 9—Special to the Telegraph—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of little Lucile Smith, last evening at the conclusion of the session, returned their verdict that the girl had met death through foul play, and recommended that the woman be held to the October grand jury without bail. Coroner Frye immediately issued a commitment and the woman was taken to Morrison and incarcerated in the county jail.

No Water in Lungs. The result of the autopsy, conducted by Dr. J. F. Keefer and Coroner Frye, together with the woman's conflicting story resulted in her being held. At the post mortem the doctors found that the lungs were free from water, that there was no water in the stomach, that the plural cavity was free from water and that the trachea or windpipe showed absolutely no signs of the girl having swallowed mud or dirty water.

In all cases of natural drowning water is found in the lungs. When decomposition advances the walls collapse and the water flows from the lungs into the plural cavity. The result of the autopsy indicates that the child did not drown, but was dead before the body was thrown into the water.

No Marks on Body. A critical examination of the body was made and not a mark of any kind was found which would indicate that the child had met with foul play. Even had death been produced by strangulation there would necessarily have been some marks on the throat, and the absence of any marks or bruises together with the fact that there is every indication that death did not take place by drowning, has puzzled the officers greatly.

Fix Time of Death.

The coroner's jury fixes the time of death between 11 o'clock Thursday evening, June 1, and 5 o'clock on Friday morning, June 2. The woman had appeared at a boarding house in Rock Falls Thursday night with the girl, and had asked for a room. She was refused. She appeared at the Northwestern depot at Galt at 5 a. m. Friday and asked for a drink. At that time the girl was not with her. She slept in the Galt depot until 2 o'clock in the afternoon Friday, at which time she started east and stopped at the Arthur Grimes home and asked for a drink of water.

Evidence has been produced to cover nearly every move she made since she left Rock Falls, but in spite of this Mrs. Engle sticks to her story that she was at the Scott camp west of town last Wednesday, and that the girl had left her at that time and had gone to her step-father's home.

Shows No Grief.

At no time since she was arrested has the woman displayed the slightest grief over the death of her girl, and her lack of interest in the proceedings during the coroner's inquisition has been the cause of many remarks. It is thought she is demented. When the verdict of the jury was returned last night holding her to the grand jury for the death of the child the woman made absolutely no movement to show that she was in the least interested.

Had Abused Child.

John Engle at the inquest yesterday testified that he had married the woman Sept. 16, 1908, but that on May 14 she had left him, taking Lucile with her, and leaving a three year old child at home. The woman at that time told her husband she was going to the home of her brother, Henry Gorton, of Franklin Grove. Engle stated that Lucile was a good child, and he had never had much trouble with her. He testified, however, that the mother had at one time knocked Lucile down with a stick of cordwood and that at another time she had tried to kill the girl with a knife, but that he had arrived home in time to prevent it. Engle swore that the woman had on several occasions threatened to kill all of the children.

Mrs. Engle on Stand.

When Mrs. Katherine Engle, the mother of the dead child, took the stand the big audience was all attention. She answered all questions at once, speaking just as loud at the conclusion as when she first started, and it was not necessary to repeat any questions to her. She stated that she was the mother of Lucile Smith and that Joe Engle had not taken out adoption papers. She stated that she left home three weeks ago, going to the home of Charles Wise in Palmyra, from which place she went to Franklin Grove May 28, and came to Sterling Wednesday, May 31. She stated that she had not seen Lucile since May 31. On arriving here she stated that she went to the home of Mrs. Spaulding, West Seventh street, then came down town, went to the Northwestern depot, then up town and got something to eat. Returning to the depot went to the toilet room at about 6 o'clock. In the toilet room only a few minutes and on returning found Lucile was missing. Went up town in search of her, asked several men if they had seen her and then returned to the depot. Thought that she probably had gone to Joe Engle's home, having begged to go home. I would not take her and I would not go to the house to see her. I went west on the same evening to a point west of the milk factory. I called for Harry Scott and another man heard me and rowed me across the river to the island. It was Wednesday evening, May 31, and it was still light when I arrived on the island. I remained on the island and went to work for Mr. Scott.

She again repeated that it was Wednesday evening, May 31, and that she arrived on the island about 7:30 o'clock. She stated that she identified the body as that of her daughter. She also gave a description of the dress she was wearing when seen last. She stated that she had trouble with Lucile, but no more than any other mother has. She denied that she was in Rock Falls on Thursday morning, June 1. Said she did not see Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Dunlap or Fred Scott on June 1. She stated that she was on the island from May 31 to June 3 and up until yesterday. She maintained that her memory was good, that her mind was sound. She denied that she had previously heard Mr. Scott wanted a housekeeper. As she left the stand she appeared in the same stolid condition as when she went on the stand.

BELIEVE CASE WILL BE CARRIED UP

John Loftus and Attorney John E. Erwin returned late last night from Chicago, where they went to interest the state association of liquor dealers in carrying a case to the supreme court from this county, to ascertain if a school election is a general election. The state director while not promising to supply the funds for the carrying of a case to the highest tribunal, was much interested in the situation and prospects here and it is the opinion of the local members of the association that the larger organization will assist in the matter.

POLO GRAYS WILL PLAY DIXON STARS

The Polo Grays will meet the Dixon Stars on Sunday afternoon at Athletic park. Both teams are evenly matched and a good game is expected. Both have this season defeated the Franklin Grove team, which is considered a strong one. The following lineup will be for the Stars: Whitebread, 2b, Burk, lf, J. Keenan, c, C. Keenan, p, Hueber, cf, Lightner, ss, J. Whitebread, 1b, Hanna, rf, Trout, 3b.

FELL FROM ELEVATOR AND BROKE ARM

The 16 year old son of Chas. Foster of Swissville fell from an elevator at the Borden milk factory yesterday and sustained a bad fracture of the right arm. Foster was employed on the elevator and in some manner stepped off of it, falling to the floor below. A physician was called to reduce the fracture and the boy is reported as doing very well today.

LOOKED FAST TO STERLING POLICE

THEREFORE THEY ASKED DIXON TO HOLD AUTOISTS FOR SPEEDING.

MANY FOREIGN CARS GO THROUGH

Corwith, Ia., Car Not Held Here as Police Were Not Justified in Doing It.

It transpired that W. B. Chambers and family of Corwith, Ia., who were detained by the police here yesterday on information received from the Sterling officials, were wanted in the Whiteside county city for violation of the speed ordinance. The Sterling police maintain that Chambers drove his auto through the streets of that city at a 32 mile an hour gait. Chief Haglock of that city maintains that after telephoning to Dixon he got a warrant for the arrest of Chambers and would have come to Dixon and served it had the Dixon officers held the man.

However, it appears that the Dixon police were right in the matter, as it seems very improbable that Chambers could have driven as fast as the Sterling police claim, in that he was fully an hour and 20 minutes after the message was received in arriving here with his auto.

The information received here was misleading and meagre and the number of the automobile was wrong. Under such circumstances the officers would not have been justified in holding the visitor, and he was allowed to proceed.

Many Foreign Cars.

It is probable that not many people, unless it should be the garage men, realize how many foreign cars pass through Dixon daily. The police and newspaper men gained a very fair idea yesterday while waiting for the Chambers car to appear. During the hour the watch was kept at the Galena avenue bridge there were at least half a dozen Iowa cars passed through the city in addition to about an equal number from other states. This morning five Iowa cars passed through the city east bound before 8 o'clock and people on the streets report having seen many more during the day.

BUGGY DEMOLISHED IN COLLISION

AUTO AND BUGGY MET ON THE CREST OF HILL IN PALMYRA.

A peculiar automobile accident occurred on the Sterling road at about 9 o'clock Thursday night, in which through no carelessness on his part, Joseph Gooch drove his auto into a trolley containing Mr. and Mrs. Crell and baby of Sterling, completely demolishing the buggy and inflicting slight injuries to Mrs. Crell.

The accident was strange in that just before the collision Gooch's machine was climbing a hill the angle of which threw the light over the approaching rig and prevented the occupants of the car from seeing it. The two rigs met on the crest of the hill, and their nearness to each other probably caused the drivers of both vehicles to become momentarily confused.

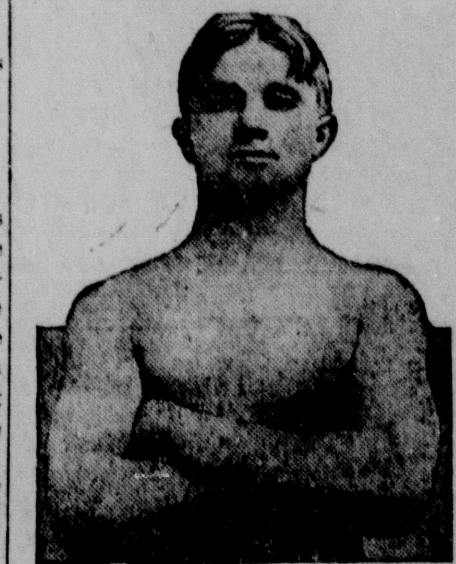

The horse started to run away and the occupants of the buggy were thrown out. Mrs. Crell receiving pain, but but no serious injuries to her back. Mr. Gooch stopped his car, took the injured Crells to Sterling and today went to Sterling, where he settled the damage, the buggy in which they were driving having been entirely demolished.

WILL IMPROVE WATER SUPPLY AT WALNUT

W. J. Hintz of this city, general agent for northern Illinois for Fairbanks, Morse & Co., has just sold a 40 horse power gasoline engine to the village of Walnut for pumping the water supply of the village. The improvement will be installed at once and will supply much additional water and better fire protection for the village.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN CONVENTION

DELEGATIONS FROM SCHOOLS OF LEE COUNTY GATHERED AT STEWARD

EVENING LECTURE BY REV. STONE

Other Speakers Will Fill Out Days Program of Practical Interest.

Steward, June 9—Special to Telegraph—The Lee County Sunday School convention is holding its closing session here today, having been in session today and yesterday. The most largely attended session was last evening, when the M. E. church was filled to hear the lecture by Rev. Fred D. Stone of Dixon on the work of the adult classes in the Sunday school. His lecture was illustrated by pictures and charts projected upon a screen by stereopticon, the instrument being operated by Ralph Bates of Dixon. Preceding this lecture there was an address upon A Larger Sunday School Vision, by C. E. Schenck, state worker.

The morning general theme is Township Work, one of the principal speakers being Rev. O. F. Shaw of Dixon.

Yesterday Dr. F. D. Altman of Dixon gave an inspiring address upon Teacher Training. The Teachers Meeting was presented by Rev. G. A. Walter of Ashton and a discussion of this topic led by Rev. F. A. Graham of Compton. Miss Mabel Kay of Dixon gave an interesting talk upon Bible Children, and the subject of Lesson Preparation was presented by Rev. C. H. Miller of Pawpaw.

The largest visiting delegation at the convention was from Dixon, there being 17 present from that city.

WALNUT BANK PUTS IN A LARGE SAFE

The First National bank of Walnut is having a large new safe installed. Since the robbery of the other bank the need of better protection was felt and for this reason the improvement is being made.

FAMILY HORSE DIES.

Bird, the family horse belonging to W. J. Hintz of 611 Peoria avenue, which has become known to many by its frequent appearance upon the streets for the past 14 years, is dead. The horse was a pet and will be greatly missed by the family. It had reached the age of 17 years.

STRAWBERRY WEEK.

Owing to the intense heat of the weather throughout Illinois and Michigan the strawberry crop of both states has ripened at the same time this year and this week will be the rush week of the season. Buy your strawberries for canning this week. We will handle Chas. Her's entire crop. See our berries and get our prices before you buy; we deliver. Fred Tetrick's Milk Depot and Grocery. Phone 109, 116 Peoria Ave.

FIRST REPORT WAS AN UNUSUALLY ARDUOUS ONE TO PREPARE.

CONTAINS ALL NEW ORDINANCES

Gives Statement of the Financial Affairs of the City and Council Proceedings.

After several weeks of hard and extra work on the part of the city officials, the first monthly report, required by the commission law, is ready for the printers and the copy was delivered to them this morning. The booklet will be an exceptionally large one this month, in that in addition to containing all of the ordinances which have been passed relative to the organization of the new kind of government, the proceedings of the council and the financial transactions since April 19 will be printed.

The report will show the following expenditures for the period from April 19 to June 1:

Dept. Public Affairs.....	$2293 08
Dept. Accounts and Finance.....	346 07
Dept. Health and Safety.....	1335 92
Dept. Streets and Pub. Imp.....	903 94
Dept. Public Property.....	1206 25

Total expenditures$6085 26
The summary of receipts in General Fund shows:

Cash on hand April 19...$1825 68
Receipts April and May... 7034 11

Total$8849 79

The report of Commissioner Henry Schmidt, who is in charge of the department of accounts and finances, will also show that the city will receive taxes to the amount of $15,369.37, which are now in process of collecting. Mr. Schmidt's report will also give in detail all of the financial transactions and the report of the city clerk will also show every warrant that has been drawn.

CLAIMS HUSBAND BROKE HER NOSE

Mrs. Louis Kaneil, who resides with her husband at the hotel east of the city, has complained that her husband badly misused her last night, and struck her with sufficient force to break her nose. As soon as she is able to come down town she will undoubtedly swear out a warrant for the arrest of her spouse and the trouble will be aired in court.

Kaneil states that he found his wife out driving with another man last night, and that inasmuch as this is not the first time he has caught her in company of this certain fellow, he could not control his jealous anger and struck her, not realizing just what he was doing.

To Picnic.

The Young Men's Alliance of the North Side Evangelical church will entertain the G. R. C. class with a beefsteak fry and launch ride to Lowell park this evening.

To Compton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hutchinson and children drove to Compton yesterday in their car.

Drew-Downey Nuptials.

On Wednesday morning, June 7, at St. Patrick's church in Maytown, occurred a very pretty marriage when Margaret E. Downey of East Grove became the bride of Edward M. Drew of Des Moines, Ia. Nuptial high mass was celebrated, Father Porcella officiating.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Charlotte Marlaugh of Ohio Station. M. T. Dunn, cousin of the bride, also of Ohio, rendered a beautiful solo during the mass.

Miss Margaret Dunn of Anoka, Minn., acted as maid of honor and Miss Cheryl Hamilton, the bride's little niece of Amboy, was ring bearer.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white messaline satin, trimmed with point lace and wore a veil. She carried a bride's bouquet of white roses.

Miss Frances, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She was also prettily gowned in white messaline and wore a large white hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was attended by Dr. J. M. O'Malley of Ohio, Ill., both wearing black.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. Margaret Downey of East Grove, where she was born and reared. She has a large circle of friends there and also in the surrounding towns, who wish her much joy and happiness.

The groom is a young man of marked ability who comes from Des Moines where he has made his home for the past nine years, going there from Dixon, his former home. He also numbers his friends by the score. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's mother where a delicious wedding breakfast was served.

Only the immediate relatives and friends of the families were present at the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew left on the evening train for Amboy. They expect to travel through the west for an indefinite time on their honeymoon, after which they will be at home to their friends in Des Moines, where the groom has furnished a handsome home. All the friends join in wishing them a happy wedded life.

Supper at Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Upham, Mrs. Squires, Misses Hitchcock and Eells and Messrs. O. B. Dodge and John Dodge will enjoy supper at the lodge at Lowell park this evening.

Gave Luncheon.

Ambop Auto Party.

Three automobile loads of Amboy people who were enroute to Sterling last night to attend the carnival, which is holding forth this week in that city, stopped in Dixon for a short visit with County Treasurer Frank Vaughan. Those in the party were Harry Badger, Dr. Moore, Robert Jenkins, Ben Lewis, Roy Doty, Al Carmichael, Geo. Gunning, Jacob Wahnke, Mr. People, Will Entorf, Bert Brewer and D. L. Berry. The automobiles were handled by Drivers Egan, Ersfeld and Nicholson.

W. R. C.

The W. R. C. will hold an important meeting in their hall Monday at 2:30.

Beefsteak Fry.

Misses Hazel Corkery and Helen Gorham and Messrs. Will Covert and Andrew Graff Jr. enjoyed a beefsteak fry up the river Wednesday evening.

Picnic Party.

Messrs. and Mesdames Clark Rickard, Frank Stephan and Arthur Hill made up a picnic party which spent Wednesday evening at Lowell park.

Rebekahs.

The regular meeting of the Rebekahs will be held in their hall this evening.

Chorus Postponed.

The meeting of the chorus of the Methodist church set for next Monday night has been postponed for a week.

At Family Reunion.

Mrs. O. B. Dodge left this morning for Chicago to attend the fifth annual reunion of the central chapter of the More family to be held at the Windemere hotel, Chicago, today and tomorrow and expects to go on next week to Mt. Clemens, Mich., for a short stay.

Woman's Club Play.

The entertainment last evening at the People's church given by the Dixon Woman's club was a decided success. The object for which the entertainment was given, the vault and chapel fund, was started some five years ago and has proved a large undertaking. The demands for money that are constantly presented to the business men, and the general depression of business that has obtained for the past two years, have made them hesitate about a number of plans they had in view at the beginning. The building as nearing completion and the series of entertainments, the play of last night being the first, it is hoped will cover the debt exclusive of the furnishings. If any generous minded person wishes to make a donation toward this fund that name will be revered by these women.

Mrs. J. H. Thompson had charge of the platform and prefaced the program with a short talk on some past work and objects of the club, thanking all who had so generously subscribed heretofore.

The opening number, a vocal solo, by Miss Maud Bartholomew, was beautifully rendered, followed by a reading by Mrs. A. G. Burnham, "Aunt Jane and Sally Ann," in which the gentlemen received their reward and seemed to meet with the entire approval of the audience.

Miss Bartholomew then gave another solo, "Sleep, Baby Mine," and received hearty applause.

Then the event of the evening was given, a farce, by the following ladies: Mesdames Burdick, Petersberger, Eichler, Dysart, McWethy, Lewis, Fillson, Traber, Fien, Booth and Misses Buffet and Smith, under the direction of Mrs. Burnham. They all surprised their friends with their dramatic ability, but Mrs. Louis Fien as sheriff, Miss Carrie Smith as Gretchen and Mrs. Adolph Eichler as a woman's rights lecturer, were especially good. Their efforts at arriving at a decision as to the guilt of the right party were not so very different from the examples we have had among our brothers recently, both in Springfield and Washington, but their ignoring both law and evidence seemed to strike the men of the audience as something particularly new and funny. All apparently enjoyed the evening and went away sounding the praises of the workers. The club thanks publicly all who helped by their contributions to the old time costumes which added much to the scenic effect and patronage.

and promise that each one of the series to be given will grow in interest and value.

Dinner and Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Reynolds entertained the members of the Spielmeier club and the Harvey-Reynolds bridal party at dinner last evening, and an informal dance was enjoyed afterward.

SUBLETTE.

Siblette, June 9—Miss Emma Laurer left for Chicago Wednesday for a visit.

The lecture by Dr. Barton Thursday evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

About 70 children of St. Mary's Catholic church took their first communion Sunday morning.

Mrs. Chas. Eccles of Maytown is quite ill at the Angier sanitarium.

Fred Reis and family visited with Mrs. Reis' mother at Mendota Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Crawford and Miss Mary Crawford attended a birthday party given for Mr. Barton at Mendota Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bauer of Compton visited at the Geo. Bieher home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Michel were in Mendota Monday evening shopping.

Mrs. Martha Stedervant has returned home from Iowa after a pleasant visit with her brother.

The Ladies' Friendly club met with Mrs. Peter Fischer on Thursday afternoon.

Frank Fill, who was operated upon at the Angier sanitarium, is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Sam Lefelman and Mrs. Chas. Lell were Mendota shoppers on Tuesday.

Grandma Easter of Mendota is visiting at the home of her son, Will Easter.

The funeral of Mrs. Mike Henkel held Sunday afternoon was largely attended.

Word is received from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Biddle of Green Lake, Wis., formerly of this place, that the lightning struck their henhouse on Friday night and in some way passed through the barn and killed the sorrel horse they took to Wisconsin with them. There were three other horses in the barn but they weren't injured.

In the morning when discovered it looked as though the barn had started to burn, but doubtless the rain put the fire out.

The family had retired at the time and Mrs. Biddle received quite a severe shock and had to be worked over fully half an hour before gaining sufficient strength to move.

Mr. Biddle has had a great deal of bad luck since living in Wisconsin, and also losing the only single driver he had.

ASHTON.

Ashton, June 9—Ernest Royster and family made a trip to Chicago Sunday.

David Leahy, living north of town died Wednesday at the advanced age of 89 years.

Chas. Heibenthal, supervisor for Ashton township, was in Dixon on Wednesday on business with the county board.

W. C. Yenerich and son Wesley went to Chicago Monday and returned Tuesday with a 40 horse power Pratt-Elkhart five passenger touring car.

C. W. Jonker and B. A. Streeter were in Steward Wednesday evening attending the high school graduating exercises. They rendered several vocal solos on the program of the evening.

Money has been subscribed for the band boys and they may give concerts once a week, which is a fine thing. A good band or baseball team is the life of a town.

W. N. Dunton and wife of Rochelle attended the Alumni banquet Tuesday evening.

O. C. Baker visited over Sunday in Chicago with a brother.

Mrs. Mary S. Krug and daughter Estella were passengers Wednesday for Melvin, Ia., for a visit at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Albert Tadd.

Dr. E. J. Brewer of Shabbona was on our streets Tuesday calling on his friends and making his parents a visit.

Rev. W. K. Loufbourrow was a business caller in Chicago Monday.

The Franklin Grove Campmeeting association have their program and catalog ready for the public. They have a better and larger program this year than ever before and doubtless will have a large attendance when the time comes.

A large number from the local Odd Fellows lodge went to Lee Center on Tuesday evening to assist in the organization of a new lodge. The Ashton lodge conferred the second and third degrees.

Chris Klingebell has been engaged by Chas. Bode in his harness shop for the coming summer with the idea of learning the trade.

Garrett Abell, son of a former pastor of the local M. E. church, was in town Thursday.

Vincent Arnould Jr. is working in the City meat market. Dimp Hartzell having resigned his position.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cordes, Paines Point, visited with relatives here on Tuesday.

J. A. Kersten and wife were in Dixon on Thursday.

George R. Charters and son Ralph made a business trip to Laverne, Minn., the end of last week.

Miss LuVelle Attig went to Mt. Morris Tuesday to attend the graduating exercises held at the college that evening.

Miss Louisa Pringle, assistant principal in the high school, left for Michigan Thursday morning for a visit with friends and relatives during vacation.

Charles A. Bancroft and wife of Durand visited friends in town Sunday.

Arthur Brown of Clinton, Ia., arrived on Saturday for a day's visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown.

Geo. B. Garrett went to Rockford Monday morning on business with the American Insurance company, which he represents in this community.

DRAINAGE NOTICE.

Inlet Swamp Drainage District—Petition for Eighth Assessment. To All Persons Interested:

Public notice is hereby given that certain owners of land within Inlet Swamp Drainage District in the County of Lee and State of Illinois, representing themselves to be a majority of the land owners within said district who are of lawful age and representing more than one-third in area of the lands in said district, have filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of said county their petition setting forth among other things that it is necessary to the protection of the lands and complete drainage of the same within said district, that another or eighth assessment be made on the lands of said district for the purpose of cleaning out, deepening and widening certain ditches of said district therein named, and for the constructing of certain other ditches as specified and prayed for in said petition, and petitioning the court to cause such assessment to be made in the manner provided by law for the purpose of doing said work and meeting the expenses thereof, and incidental expenses relating thereto.

Public notice is also hereby given that said petitioners have also filed in the office of said clerk their petition praying that on the granting of the foregoing petition a certain order of said court for an eighth assessment on said lands, made and entered November 30th, 1909, be cancelled and revoked to all intents and purposes as if the same had not been entered, and that the petition therefore be dismissed and the district relieved therefrom.

Notice is further given that said petitions have been set down for hearing by said county court at the court house in the City of Dixon in said county, at one o'clock in the afternoon on Monday, the 19th day of June, 1911.

Dated at Dixon, Ill., this 26th day of May, A. D. 1911.

WILLIAM C. THOMPSON, Clerk of the County Court of the County of Lee and State of Illinois.

FAMILY THEATRE

Vaudeville was resumed last night at the Family theatre and will be continued through Sunday night. Two large houses were present to enjoy the show and this is positive proof that the people like vaudeville. The Albany quartet, composed of four male singers, pleased and were compelled to respond to several encores. One of the gentlemen is an accomplished pianist and rendered two very pleasing solos.

The Musical Reeves with numbers on a variety of instruments, made an instantaneous hit. Their act has melody and goes with a dash, which makes it very popular. There will be new pictures tonight.

M. J. Chance of the Pantagraph company of Bloomington was here today.

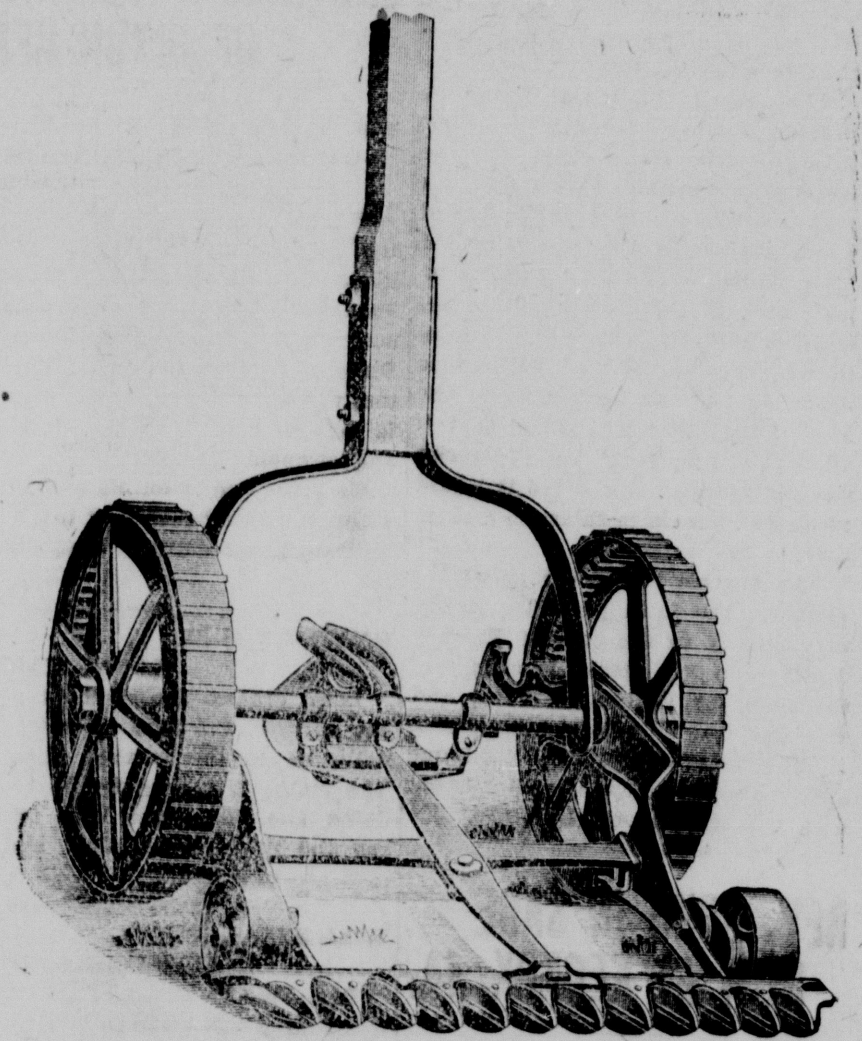

SPRING BRINGS SORE FEET HERE IS A POSITIVE CURE

With the advent of warm weather comes foot troubles to thousands of people. The increased temperature and heaviness of the atmosphere causes swelling and excess perspiration. This brings on a series of foot troubles. The treatment given below will be welcomed with joy by an army of sufferers. It acts like magic. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of hot water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. Less time will not give the desired results." Repeat this each night until the cure is permanent. All soreness disappears immediately. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Bunions are reduced to normal and the inflammation drawn out. Sweaty and smelly feet, tender and swollen feet need but a few treatments. This Calocide is a remarkable drug. Formerly used only by doctors but any druggist now has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is claimed to cure the worst feet.

SECRET AGENTS ALONG BORDER

Mexican Government Stations
Them to Watch for Juntas.

ARMED UPRISING IS FEARED

Former Governor Redo of Sinaloa Arrested in El Paso—Two Federals Executed at Culiacan Tuesday Night.

El Paso, June 9.—Secret agents of the Mexican government are being scattered along the border, it is declared here, to watch for juntas which believe the socialists are going to form with the idea of opposing Madero with armed force.

The discovery of the plot here is serving as an incentive for the Madero
and government agents to get active.
The men are still held in jail. Twenty-six more guns were found in the sand in the river bed, where Magonistas had hidden them.

It is still insisted by agents of the Mexican government that federal soldiers numbering 1,500 will soon pass through Ciudad Juarez and El Paso on their way from the city of Chihuahua to Lower California. Through the consulate at El Paso the Mexican government has adopted arrangements with the Southern Pacific railway to transport the troops.

A special from Nogales says that Governor Diego Redo, former governor of Sinaloa, who was reported assassinated when Culiacan fell, and who arrived on a special train, was arrested and is being held. Twenty-five members of his party, now on the American side, were warned not to return to Mexico under penalty of arrest.

Redo's brother-in-law, General Morales, and Captain Stein, prefecto of the Puerto, were executed at Culiacan
Tuesday night.

The Chinese government will demand an indemnity of a million pesos from the Mexican government for financial losses of its countrymen, besides pay for the killing of 203 Chinese when the insurgents took Torre-
on. Lan Poo, a banker of Torre-on, has been designated by the Chinese government to prepare a report on the situation, including a statement of all financial losses.

Expedition of Steamer Star Eureka Proves Complete Success and She Heads Homeward.

San Diego, Cal., June 9.—A message received here from a party of treasurer seekers aboard the Star Eureka says their expedition to recover an immense cache of gold, hidden by the crew of a Chilean cruiser off the Honduran coast more than twenty years ago, has been successful.

The treasure has been variously estimated at from $15,000,000 to $67,000-000, according to reports circulated here of the Eureka's quest. The steamer is now headed for this port.

The Eureka is in command of Captain Burling and was taken on a thirty-day charter by a party of San Francisco people about two weeks ago.

The expedition is said to have been financed by Harry Krelling, a well-known clubman of San Francisco. The map, showing the location of the buried treasure, is said to have been in the possession of a former resident of Honduras, who succeeded in interesting Krelling in his story of buried gold.

The result was the chartering of the Eureka.
The fact that most of the South American republics will not allow exportation of gold made it necessary to guard the plans of the expedition.

The message received from Salina
Cruz read:

"Expedition a success in every way.
Reach San Diego for oil next week."

MRS. TOM L. JOHNSON'S SUIT

Late Mayor Tied Up Estate so that Family is Pressed for Money.

Cleveland, June 9.—Mrs. Tom L.
Johnson's suit against the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company of New York is going to result in a complete airing of the financial affairs of the Johnson family and show the break between the late mayor's closest personal friends and his family. The Johnson family is pressed for money. Mrs.
Johnson and another member of the family announced as much in New York.

It is no secret among the friends of the late mayor that the present conditions result from his effort to keep his estate intact for the benefit of his grandchildren. Loftin Johnson had shown a speculative tendency, and his father did not wish his part of the estate risked in that manner. Mrs.
Johnson now believes that Loftin can manage the family's finances.

Kansas City, Mo., June 9.—A monument to John Brown, erected from a fund started by the late Bishop Abram Grant of the African Methodist church, was unveiled in Kansas City, Kan., in connection with the commencement exercises of the Western University for Negroes. The money was given exclusively by negroes.

Miss Eva Marshall Shonts, a sister of Theodore P. Shonts, of New York;
Governor Stubbs, Lieutenant-Governor
Hopkins and former Governor St. John of Kansas were the principal speakers
at the ceremonies.

PAPKE IS WORLD CHAMPION

Defeats Jim Sullivan in London for Middleweight Distinction.

London, June 9.—Billy Papke, the American, defeated Jim Sullivan here for the middleweight championship of the world. It was a punch on the mouth that did the trick near the end of the ninth round. Papke's right dropped the Englishman and he was taking the count when the gong rang
for the end of the round.

Sullivan, however, was unable to go back for the beginning of the tenth round and the referee, Corri, gave the decision to Papke.

MURDOCK SLAMS WORSTED TRUST

Red-Haired Kansas Insurgent Makes Lively Attack.

WANTS WORSTED FABRICS FREE

Representative Mann of Illinois Criticizes Underwood Bill as Revenue
Producing Measure—Danzell
Applauds Murdock.

Washington, June 9.—In the course of the general debate on the Underwood wool revision bill in the house, Representative Victor Murdock, the red haired insurgent from Kansas, made a lively attack on the worsted trust.

Mr. Murdock devoted particular attention to the 40 per cent duty on worsted clothes which the Underwood
bill provides, insisting that this meant protection to the trust that controls
the worsted output. Representative Danzell of Pennsylvania, standpatter-in-chief, led the applause that greeted
Mr. Murdock's assaults on the Democratic wool measure.

"Times have changed," commented
some of the majority members when they noticed Mr. Danzell's enthusiastic endorsement of Murdock's remarks.

"The worsted trust has increased the price to your constituent, to mine,
for the clothes he wears," he said.
"The worsted trust has by stock manipulation paid out in eleven years, on probably not over $15,000,000 investment, $22,000,000 in dividends and has built up besides an establishment carrying a capital of $60,000,000 with a surplus of $10,000,000 on hand on top of that."

"The worsted trust has dominated its own field, manipulated successfully the field of its rival, the carded woolen interests, has dictated to the clothing trade and twisted and turned the thumb screws on the purchaser of fabrics without stint, mercy or conscience."

"It has had the privilege of a 'joker'
in the raw wool classification of schedule K, also of a 'joker' in the yarn and top duty and also in the enormous duty on the cheap grades of cloth."

"It has had the advantage of employing more women and children proportionately than the carded woolen interests and paying them on the average less."

"Petted and pampered, privy at least once to the secret deliberations of a tariff writing committee, full-fledged on the unfair provisions of the tariff, gross and greasy from the fat fried out of your constituents and mine, the worsted trust is not deserving of the fostering care of this government in shape of a protecting duty
and no man on that side in his servility
to the caucus and no man on this side in his servility to partisan preconception can afford to vote against an amendment making all worsted fabrics
free."

Representative Mann of Illinois, the minority leader, opened the debate by criticizing the effectiveness of the Underwood bill as a revenue producing measure. He also questioned the accuracy of the information on the wool schedule which has been submitted to the house by the ways and means Democrats.

TO SAVE THE SEALS

Prof. Elliott Thinks Closed Season of Fifteen Years Should be Enforced.

Washington, June 9.—Unless the once great seal herd of Pribilof Islands of Alaska is to be absolutely exterminated a closed season of fifteen years is essential, according to the testimony of Professor H. W. Elliott of Cleveland, a fur seal expert, before the house committee on expenditures in the department of commerce and labor.

Professor Elliott insisted that as a result of the indiscriminate and illegal killing of seals of recent years there were now less than 20,000 breeding females in the Pribilof group. Should the closed season be strictly adhered to for fifteen years he thought the herd would multiply until there would be at least 1,000,000 breeding females at the end of that period. Then, he pointed out, the herd would be of great commercial value to the United States.

BOUTELL'S STORY DENIED

Minister's Son Says Man Who Attempted Suicide Is No Kin.

Washington, June 9.—Hugh G. Bout-tell, son of Henry S. Bouttell, minister to Switzerland, denied published reports that Leonard J. Bouttell, who attempted suicide in the West Side Y.

his family.

Ex-Congressman J. Frank Aldrich,
after communicating by long-distance telephone with Roger S. Bouttell, a son of the former congressman from Chicago, pronounced the man an impostor
when he appeared in court in New York and reiterated his claim that he was a son of the minister to Switzerland.

REAL STARS COME EVERY FIVE YEARS

So Says Baseball Man in Talking About Diamond Marvels.

POINTS TO HISTORY OF GAME

Says It Is Noticeable Fact That Extraordinary Ball Tossers Pop Up Only in This Space of Time—Johnson and Cobb in Present Decade.

By TOMMY CLARK.
"Did you ever notice that baseball marvels appear only once every five years?" said a prominent National league baseball man recently to the writer. "It may seem facetious, but nevertheless is true. Just go back over the list and you will see that there have been but two extraordinary players developed during this space of time, and one of them is a pitcher."

"My point is easily taken and to my way of thinking is easily proved. These last five years both men have gone to and been developed in the American league. One of them is Walter Johnson of Washington, that marvelous pitcher and perhaps the greatest of this year and former years. The other player is Ty Cobb of Detroit."

"The half decade from 1900 to 1905
brought out Pitcher Ed Walsh of the White Sox and Second Baseman Johnny Evers of the Cubs. I would like to include Pitchers Mathewson of the Giants, but really believe that Ed Walsh tops him. You see, he hasn't the club behind him that the other two fellows have. It takes a lot of pitching to win a game for the Sox, especially last year and the one before."

"To return to Johnson—he never was heard of until Joe Cantillon signed him up. Straight from the deserts of Idaho he lugged Walter, and Johnson has been a star ever since. He has not got what you call a marvelous team behind him, but his winning average is close to .500, and he has worked in a big lot of games too."

"Cobb, Spenser, Lajoie and the other magnificent batters of the American league find him a hard proposition to face. Pat Dougherty and Billy Sullivan of the Chicago Americans, who are pretty fine sluggers, cannot do anything but whiff when they get up against Johnson."

"Lots of the time he doesn't need many curves. His straight, fast ball is enough to batter most of the batters.
In a series with the White Sox in Washington last summer I don't think he threw fifteen curve balls the whole game. But when he has to he can put on every kind of dress that a ball can stand."

"There is no need telling of the merits of Ty Cobb. He has figured in countless column baseball stories. It's a cold day when some kind of layout can't be woven around Tyus."

During the discussion several took exception to the baseball man's remarks. They claimed that he was unfair; that if he counted in only two players every five years that would make about fourteen players of that caliber since the National league opened.

"That's not the point," continued the baseball man. "I wanted to figure in the real, top notch, amazing stars.
They don't come any faster than that.
Before Walsh and Evers in that generation from 1895 to 1900 I would include Lajoie of Cleveland and Wagner of Pittsburgh. Others whom I would place in the list are Comiskey, Clarkson, Kelly, Jennings, Anson and Radbourne."

"I don't mean this as any knock against the other players. It's the same as classifying the great actors or the great presidents. I don't think sir Henry Irving would have justice done him if you compared another tragic actor of good ability with him.
Sir Henry was a star of the first magnitude, just as Walter Johnson and Cobb are in their profession."

The baseball man has failed to mention Johnny McGraw and Willie Keeler. The former was one of the greatest third basemen that ever lived, while Keeler was a great outfielder, a wonderful batter and one of the speediest base runners baseball ever produced. As for Christy Mathewson, his equal as a pitcher will probably never be found. For twelve seasons he has been doing mound duty, and today he is still without a superior. Johnson is a marvel, and so is Walsh, but Matty outclasses them. Johnson may or may not surpass Mathewson in years to come, but he will have to go some to do it. It is mainly through Matty's great work in the box that the Giants have been so well up in the race for years.

Then how about Eddie Collins, the Athletics' second baseman? He is a wonderful batter, base runner and one of the brainiest young men that ever appeared on the diamond. And there is still another—Russell Ford of the New York Americans. Today he is the peer of all spiritual twirlers, and in another season he will stand the heavy hitters of his league on their heels.

When going over the list of great ball players one cannot leave out Fred Clarke. Show us one left fielder that has anything on the Pirates' manager in any way. How about Hal Chase?
A more spectacular first baseman never appeared in baseball. There is no way of figuring out how often wonderful ball players may pop up. There may be one this season. Who knows?

PRESIDENT TAFT VISITS NEW YORK

Enjoys Himself Immensely as Orator of Honor at Banquet.

SPEAKS TO COTTON SEED MEN

Tells Them All About Canadian Reciprocity and Why He Thinks
Its Adoption Will Benefit
the Country.

New York, June 9.—As the guest of honor at the Hotel Astor of the Produce Exchange and the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' association, President Taft had an enjoyable time.

There was no doubt that Mr. Taft found the evening a pleasant one, for the southern cotton men not only made it plain that they liked him immen-sely, but that they were strong for his Canadian reciprocity plan. The southerners banged the tables, cheered every sentence the president uttered and rose at end of his speech to give a thunderous "aye" when one of their number put the question: "Are we
with the president?"

Mr. Taft's appeal to the cotton men was characteristically direct. He told them he believed that reciprocity with Canada would be good business for them, that it would help them rather than injure them, just as it would benefit rather than injure the farmers of the country. He asked them to get after their senators and let these legislators understand what their desire was. The president explained also that the farmers' free list should not be tacked on as an amendment to the Canadian reciprocity bill for the reason that it had no relevancy, and because it would drive away from the reciprocity bill enough votes to defeat the proposed agreement with Canada.

Mr. Taft began by a reference to the growth of the cotton seed oil industry
and to the fact that the Canadian reciprocity bill would secure the admission of the oil into Canada free of duty. He continued:

"Under the treaty vegetables and fruits of all kinds enter Canada free.
One of the greatest branches of the farming industry in the south is truck farming and the bringing of early vegetables to the north. The same thing is true of fruits and berries.
With the introduction of these free
into Canada you will secure other customers with a valuable trade that will add greatly to the demand and that will certainly expand your industry and maintain the price at which it can be profitably carried on."

"The treaty has opponents, however, vigorous, active and vociferous,
and the arguments against it and the means taken to defeat it are not always of a direct character. The house of representatives, soon after it passed the bill embodying the reciprocity agreement, passed a bill known as the farmers' free list. In my judgment it was unfortunate and unjust that this bill should have been introduced and adopted by some on the theory that it was a sop to the farmers to make up for the injustice and injury assumed to have been done them in the Canadian reciprocity bill, for there is no injustice done to the farmers in the Canadian reciprocity agreement. Whether the farmers' free list is a measure which ought to be passed is a question on the merits of that bill
and is to be and ought to be determined upon considerations wholly apart from the merits of the Canadian reciprocity."

"I am glad to say that Mr. Underwood who introduced the farmers' free list, repudiated any such idea, but certain it is, that a number of people have assumed that unless the farmers' free list was passed at the same time, the Canadian reciprocity agreement would be an injury or unfair to the farming classes. Nothing could be further from the truth in my judgment. The Canadian reciprocity agreement will greatly aid the farming classes, both in the north and in the south."

"The farmers' free list has no relevancy at all to the Canadian reciprocity agreement because it affects imports from all the world and is a general tariff revision, having nothing whatever to do with the contract which we have made with Canada. If it is voted on to the reciprocity agreement it will drive away from the support of the reciprocity agreement a great number of votes, enough to defeat the agreement. This, it seems to me, ought to prove an insurmountable objection to voting a free list as an amendment to reciprocity."

Mexican Troops Permitted to Pass.

Washington, June 9.—The United States has granted permission to the Mexican government for the passage of Mexican federal troops through the United States while enroute from Her-mosillo, Mex., into Lower California to suppress the socialist revolutionary movement there which is still in progress. The Mexican troops will be disarmed while they are on American territory.

Will Report Reciprocity Bill.

Washington, June 9.—The senate finance committee agreed to report to the senate without recommendation the bill for Canadian reciprocity. The amendment of Senator Root was adopted by a vote of 8 to 6.

AD WOLGAST IS REAL CHAMPION

Recent Battles Prove He Is Tough Nut to Crack.

MORAN HIS NEXT OPPONENT.

Little Englishman Is Scheduled to Meet the Title Holder in Twenty Round Bout in Frisco July 4—Battle Should Be a Warm One.

Ad Wolgast's impressive victory over Frankie Burns in San Francisco recently strengthens the general belief that he is the real lightweight champion of the world. Burns, a fairly clever, game boy, put up a desperate fight, but was outclassed and received a terrible beating. In this bout Wolgast showed better skill and form than ever before. He took many dangerous punches on the jaw and at one time dropped to his knees, only to keep on hammering until his antagonist was helpless.

This victory, following the stopping of "One Round" Hogan in two rounds in New York and the defeat of George Mensie and Anton La Grave in California, has increased Wolgast's reputation and has convinced many ring experts that he is not a counterfeit title holder or "cheese champion," as the disappointed Bartling Nelson nicknamed him a year ago.

Wolgast has proved conclusively that he can take punishment and can hit. He is not a fancy dancing master, but a rough, strong rusher who is constantly trying to put over a knockout blow. It is apparent now that the lightweight champion wasn't at his best when he shaped up with K. O. Brown in Philadelphia and in New York. Wolgast in these bouts did not show the aggressiveness that since has materialized.

It is possible that he was afraid to take chances with his left arm, which had been broken, and, furthermore, his rather poor showing may have been due to rustiness caused by a long lay-off. But Wolgast was another man in his most recent fight, and when Burns' second had thrown up a towel hundreds of spectators declared that the champion was the best lightweight on top of the earth.

This opinion probably grated on the nerves of Owen Moran, the English boxer, who sat within a few feet of the ropes and watched Wolgast like a hawk. Moran and Wolgast are matched to fight twenty rounds in the same ring on July 4, and in the opinion of good judges Wolgast will have the hardest battle of his career. Moran is not only a first class boxer, but he is a rugged fighter with unlimited grit, a hard punch in either hand and much experience. He knocked Nelson out in eleven rounds last fall and promptly challenged Wolgast, but the latter avoided the making of a match for several months until public opinion forced him to acknowledge the sturdy Briton.

Moran boxed six rounds with Wolgast in New York several years ago and outpointed him so easily that the spectators held their sides and laughed. That is why Moran believes that Wolgast will be an easy mark. But Moran may learn that Wolgast is a far different proposition this time, though it is readily conceded that Moran on past performances has a royal chance to win.

Bonano is just the appetizing goodness of fully matured tropic-ripened bananas—the choicest that grow—dried, roasted, ground—served as a golden brown, fragrant beverage. No adulteration, no artificial coloring or flavor.

VOLIVA FACTION LOSES

Writ of Mandamus as to Election Is Denied by Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., June 9.—The Voliva faction in Zion City lost out in the supreme court in its effort to secure from that tribunal a writ of mandamus to compel Mayor Richey, the clerk and city council of Zion City to canvass the vote of the city election held April 19, 1911, and declare the result. The court denied the motion of John Dow for leave to file a petition asking for a writ of mandamus to issue ordering the mayor, clerk and city council to meet and canvass the vote and declare the result. Dow alleges that Clendenin, the Voliva faction candidate for mayor, and other candidates of that faction were elected and that Mayor Richey and the old officers and councilmen, who belong to the anti-Voliva faction, have neglected and refused to canvass the vote.

Chief Justice Orrin N. Carter, who read the order denying the motion of Dow, declared the question was of only local interest and not of sufficient importance for the supreme court to take cognizance of it. The petitioner could obtain relief in the lower courts, he said.

SERIOUS ROW OVER PRAYER

Protestants of Belvidere, Ill., High School Boycott Exercises.

Belvidere, Ill., June 9.—Twenty-eight Protestant members of the graduating class of the Belvidere high school refused to attend the graduating exercises as a result of a religious controversy.

Asserting that he was acting on advice from Bishop P. J. Muldoon of the Rockford diocese, the Rev. Father Joseph Joyce, pastor of St. James' Catholic church, notified the school board that he would apply for a court injunction if the prayer and benediction to have been offered by the Rev. W. T. McKee, a Presbyterian clergyman, were not omitted. After receiving Father Joyce's protest the board engaged attorneys and was advised that the supreme court of Illinois had ruled against having prayer or other religious exercises in public schools.

DESERTS BRIDE AT ALTAR

Champaign Man Disappears as Soon as He Is Married.

Danville, Ill., June 9.—Miss Augusta Gerth of Chicago, who is pretty, demure and twenty, walked into the county clerk's office Monday and asked for a license to wed Harry Eaton of Champaign. She got it and accompanied by Eaton and her father, Miss Gerth went to the office of Justice Depke, where the marriage ceremony was performed.

The bridegroom immediately excused himself, saying he would return in an hour. He is still missing. The bride is said to be of a prominent Chicago family. Her husband is well known at Champaign.

GIRL CONQUERS BULLDOG

Fights Hand-to-Hand Battle with Animal Which Bit Pet Kitten.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., June 9.—Lila Spaulding, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Carl G. Spaulding, superintendent of the light plant, is a heroine among the villagers. She fought a hand-to-hand battle with a bulldog, owned by George Barnes, while the animal was killing a two-months-old kitten she carried in her arms.

The girl was playing in the street, and had the kitten in her arms, when the bulldog rushed toward her and bit the pet. The girl held the kitten with one hand and struck with her fist and kicked the dog.

KILLED ON PARK COASTER

Jacob Hanson of Decatur, Wis., Is Victim of Device in Chicago.

Chicago, June 9.—Jacob Hanson, a farmer of Decatur, Wis., was fatally injured while riding on a "roller coaster" at White City, an amusement park, and died shortly after the accident.

Whether Hanson leaped from the car and was struck by an upright or was thrown from the swiftly moving vehicle by its speed is not positively known. His body left the car as it made a "dip" and Hanson was picked up unconscious. His skull was fractured and his arm and nose broken.

PRISON TERMS FOR TWO

Miss Lodavine Miller and Brother Convicted of Conspiracy.

Chicago, June 9.—Miss Lodavine Miller and her brother, Attorney J. Marion Miller, who swindled "Tommy" Foulkes, the sentimental Iowa farmer, out of about all his considerable riches while he was under a spell wrought by the charms of Miss Miller, were found guilty of conspiracy. They will have to serve sentences of from one to ten years in Joliet prison.

According to Foulkes Miss Miller induced him to turn over to her $11,000 and two farms worth $40,000.

Unidentified Girl Found in River. Sterling, Ill., June 9.—The decomposed remains of a fifteen-year-old girl were discovered floating in Rock river here. Evidently the child had been dead about two weeks. Inquiry along the river for fifty miles has failed to establish the identity of the girl.

The other side of the pond seems to have a great attraction for several of our athletes. Not satisfied with cleaning up in this country, they are anxious to go abroad and add more scalps to their belts. At least six of America's best amateurs and professionals will be competing abroad this summer.

Mel W. Sheppard, the world's greatest amateur middle distance runner, has mapped out a strenuous campaign for the year and is hopeful of adding a number of new records to his already long list.

If his plans go through Sheppard intends to sail for Scotland July 5 and return Aug. 15. The Scots hold three sets of games during the middle of July and the first part of August. They have invited athletes from all over the world to try for the prizes. The only other American besides Sheppard who will probably compete in that country is Harry Gissing.

Sheppard will try for the prizes in the half mile events. He believes that if he is in old time shape he ought to have no trouble in breezing home a winner in each.

After the Olympic games in 1908, instead of coming home with the rest of the bunch, Shep stole over to Scotland and won a number of races.

Ever since the Scots have been at Shep to compete again in their games.

There is no doubt that America's reputation for producing the greatest short distance athletes will be made plainer with Sheppard and Gissing matching their speed against the best of Europe in the Scotland tournament. Over there they don't think we really have the very best, but when they see Mel crossing the tape ahead of their champions they will have a better opinion of us.

Tex Ramsdell, the crack sprinter of the University of Pennsylvania, is thinking seriously of making another visit to England to compete in a number of events. Tex showed his heels to a number of Englishmen while abroad last summer. The Penn star may be accompanied by Gwyn Henry, the Texas speed marvel.

The professional runners will also have their funnings abroad. If plans do not fall several American distance men will journey abroad in search of the loose currency that is supposed to be lying around over there. Hans Holmer will run several match races with the best runners to be procured. One of his first races will be with several fast men at the full Marathon distance, the race taking place on the Isle of Man the last week in June. In this race Bouchard, the Frenchman, will be Holmer's chief opponent.

Holmer has arranged for a couple of races in France and Germany. The Germans are at fever heat over foot running, over 1,400 amateurs turning out for one cross country run. Bill Queal, the greatest of all professional distance runners, is also thinking of taking a trip abroad. Bill has received several offers from the promoters on the other side of the Atlantic to meet their stars, and it is more than likely he will accept.

ILLINOIS CITIES UNDER LAW REPRESENTED IN PEORIA MEETING.

Peoria, June 9.—Mayors of 15 Illinois cities now ruled under the commission form of government met in the assembly room of the National hotel yesterday afternoon for the purpose of forming a permanent organization by which they hope to solve the present commission form of government law in a uniform manner, thereby preventing a difference in interpreting its various clauses in different cities.

Use TIZ-- Smaller Feet

Sore Feet Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Everyone who is troubled with sore, sweaty, or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, calluses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear shoes a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principal of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walker Lutz or Dodge & Co. Chicago, Ill.

If you are having trouble with your feet read Dr. Stanley's ad. in the Telegraph this evening.

DR. MAINWARING PREACHES IN WEST

DIXON PASTOR IS ENJOYING A MONTH AT PUEBLO, COLORADO

Dr. A. A. Mainwaring, pastor of the Dixon Baptist church, is spending the present month in Colorado, with Pueblo as his headquarters, and enjoying the invigorating atmosphere of that section of the country. While there he is filling the pulpit of the Mesa Baptist church, and the Pueblo Chieftain of June 5th has the following to say of his first service:

There was a good attendance at the service, both morning and evening. This church is exceedingly fortunate in securing as pastor for June Rev. A. A. Mainwaring, D. D., of Dixon, Ill. Dr. Mainwaring is an earnest, highly cultured christian gentleman whom it is a pleasure and privilege to meet and listen to his sermons.

At the morning service in answer to the inquiry, "Does God only speak to man in whisper, or is man so deaf that God cannot speak to him?" Dr. Mainwaring said there were evidences apparent in the world of nature and the world of grace that pointed unmistakably to the never-failing anxiety of God to arrest man's attention and to lift him to a higher and ennobling sphere of being.

In the evening the theme was "The Sacrifice of Christianity." It was not the necessity, but the excellency of the christian atonement that Dr. Mainwaring emphasized.

The sacrifice of christianity excelled all other sacrifices in the nature of its victim, in the efficiency of its work and in the far-reaching scope of its influence.

While the morning sermon was sympathetic and helpful in its very tenderness, the evening sermon was dramatic, leaving Christ as the only Saviour of the world over the background of all the Jewish sacrifices.

NASAL CATARRH

"A bad case of catarrh was cured for me by the use of HYOMEI. The trouble affected my head nose, and eyes, and was very annoying and disagreeable, and the cure, from the use of HYOMEI, was very gratifying. HYOMEI has from me a strong recommendation and endorsement." — Mrs. E. Karberg, 213 Kingsley St., Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 16, 1908.

HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-me) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ-infested membrane and drive out catarrh. If you own a small Hyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of HYOMEI at druggists everywhere or at Rowland Bros. for only 50 cents. If you don't own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat, or money back.

CO. E PLANS TO HIKE TO DIXON

EFFORTS MADE TO HAVE SEVERAL COMPANIES JOIN IN THE MARCH

There is some talk of Company E of Sterling making the trip to Dixon at the time of the encampment in August on foot. It would make a fine workout for the boys and it would show them better than any other way what it would mean to carry along the hot roads the full army equipment which they would have to do if they were called out to action. Thus they might appreciate more what the soldier boys are kicking about in the south who are being started out with that five hundred miles ahead of them in the hot south sun.

The fourteen miles which Company E boys would have to traverse would mean a small day's workout but probably all that they would care about making in one day. There is also some talk of the other companies who would have to pass through Sterling to get to their destination at Dixon, of stopping there and all going to gether. It is thought that the plan will be matured and that the assembling of the members of the I. N. G. would take place and the sight of the several companies en route would be as near war as thousands will ever get a chance to witness.

SYCAMORE TO HAVE FEDERAL BUILDING

SITE CHOSEN AND NEW POSTOFFICE FICE IS TO COST $50,000.

Sycamore, June 8—Sycamore is to have a new $50,000 postoffice. Progress is being made as fast as possible in transaction with the government for the postoffice building that will be erected in Sycamore. The government has adopted the recommendations made by the special agent of the treasury, who visited Sycamore and investigated the four sites offered and has notified the owners that the site on the corner of State and Main streets, belonging to W. V. Henrie, F. B. Townsend and Mrs. Kate Wright has been chosen.

LEE CENTER SCHOOL FINISHES TONIGHT

COMPTON THURSDAY NIGHT GRADUATIONS HAVE KEPT SUPT. MILLER BUSY.

The basket picnic to be given by the pupils and patrons of the Lee Center school this evening will be the final entertainment of the schools of the county, which have kept County Superintendent Miller busy during the past five weeks. During that time Mr. Miller has attended all of the 21 graduating exercises held and at each one has delivered an address, in some cases his remarks being the address of the evening, in other cases accompanying the presentation of the diplomas.

While doing this work Mr. Miller has been forced to pass up some of the routine office work, to make up which he will be obliged to put in some long hours for a couple of weeks. At present he is digging tooth and nail to prepare his report for the meeting of the board of supervisors, which convenes today.

Compton Last Night

The annual exercises of the Compton school were held last evening, the address of the evening being made by Mr. Miller. His subject was "Modern Trends of Education," and reports from Compton are to the effect that the speaker gave one of the most entertaining addresses the people of that place have ever enjoyed.

Miss Reid, who has been visiting friends here, returned to her home in Sublette today.

ROLLINS CASE WAS DISMISSED

POLICE MAGISTRATE KENT CONSIDERED THERE WAS PROVOCATION FOR ASSAULT

The case of the people vs. Geo. Rollins, better known as "Rocky," came up Thursday afternoon before Police Magistrate Kent, with States Attorney Edwards prosecuting and Attorney John P. Devine defending.

Michael Smith and the family of Gustav Pieper were the complainants. It seems that on last Sunday evening "Rocky" Rollins got into a controversy with Smith and the Pieper lads and the outcome of it was that "Rocky" rapped Smith over the dome with a stick a couple of times, inflicting no serious damage, however.

From the evidence brought forth it would appear that Mr. Rollins had plenty of provocation and that he let the boys off pretty easy, so Judge Kent thought, at any rate, for he dismissed the case.

Smith was fined only a few weeks ago for being drunk and disorderly and the Pieper boys, Fred and Arthur, have each been convicted of stealing chickens and are paroled under Judge Kent.

Is Impeached.
The Fish club is noted for its leniency in matters pertaining to angling for the elusive fluky tribe, but Joe Staples, charter member and sergeant at arms of the club, overstepped the easy rules of the club yesterday and henceforth he will have to fish alone. The club had one of the weakly excursions early yesterday morning, and incidentally caught three (3) fish, one more than they have recorded for any single trip. But it was in capturing this extra fish that Joe Staples ostracized himself.

Consequently Joe is out and his office has been given to Paul Lennon, the man who expended 15 good round American simoleons for a fishing outfit and never caught a fish.

D. C. BEIGTEL RECEIVED INJURIES
Through misinformation given by witnesses of the occurrence the Telegraph yesterday reported that Gus Bartholomew had been injured while unloading a separator at the Northwestern depot on Wednesday afternoon. The man injured was not Bartholomew, but D. C. Beigtel, who was working with Bartholomew unloading the machine.

The base ball game Sunday between the local team and the Peru Maroons was won by the latter by the score of 6 to 4 after one of the most weird games ever seen on the local diamond. Many costly errors were committed by the players from West Brooklyn and as a result they tossed the game away. They have no excuse to offer for no team can expect to win a base ball game and give the opposing team all the advantages through the error column. And in spite of all the bad playing they would have won the game in the fifth inning when they did score 4 runs if they had kept their thinking caps on and played real base ball. At this point the Peru team were doing the bad playing while Brooklyn was enjoying a hitting fest, and the local players had a grand opportunity to pass their opponents but passed it up by poor work on the bases and it did not come their way again. The Maroons are a fast team and good ball players but they did not deserve to defeat West Brooklyn in that game. Well we hope the two teams will meet again this season and that Captain Michels men will pull themselves together and show their real class on the base ball field. Their fielding is loose and they need more practice to perfect that part of their playing for they are hitting the ball much better and will put up a fast game just as soon as they develop their fielding a little more. Elliot played his first game in a Brooklyn uniform in this game and made his appearance at is however in the out field and undoubtedly a berth will be found for him there as McCrea fits into the in-field combination much better than a new man.

More Trouble

The Oregon Power Company had their electric light line going wrong again on Monday when their wires must have become crossed with those of the rail road company somewhere between here and Amboy. As a result the telephone line was charged with electric juice from the Oregon line and rendered the railroad phones useless. In the local depot an awful noise was caused and sparks flew the connecting wires in the local depot office. The great amount of electricity burned out the phones and line men had to come and repair them.

Lots of corn was sold in West Brooklyn during the last week when the price went up to 50c. Farmers seem content with a half dollar this year and feel satisfied that it will not go above that figure.

First Communion

First holy communion was administered in St. Mary's church of West Brooklyn on Sunday morning to a class of some 30 children. The services commenced at 9 o'clock and lasted until noon and during all this time the church was paced with people who came many miles to witness the ceremony. It was the largest crowd that has been inside the church since its erection and in spite of the extreme hot weather every one seemed willing to remain for all the services. The children were dressed very nearly alike and presented a very beautiful scene while marching to the altar.

Village Meeting

Forresters will please keep in mind that their monthly meeting for June will occur on Thursday night, June 15th.

There was a good-sized crowd out to hear the band play Saturday night and the music was very pleasing to all. The boys play in front of the post office where they have the benefit of Dr. White's big light in front of his building and are very thankful to him for its use.

Rural Carrier No. 2 Henry W. Gehant was ill on Monday so he could not deliver the mail to the patrons on his route. In his stead F. D. Gehant served making the trip in his automobile.

Frank Roberts drove his six passenger Mitchell auto over from Rochelle Monday morning.

J. W. Their transacted business in West Brooklyn Monday morning.

A. H. Lauer, George Lauer and Miss Emma Lauer, also Alphonse Lauer were over from Sublette Sunday evening visiting friends.

John Fassig was in town from Brooklyn on business Monday morning.

The Louis and John Unts families were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Unts Sr. on Sunday.

Miss Kathryn Bernardin went to Compton Monday to clerk in the store for that day.

A large number of people from West Brooklyn were in Sublette Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Michael Henkel who was buried from St. Mary's church in that city. The attendance was so large that it was a difficult matter to get all inside the church. The relatives and friends of the deceased who live in this neighborhood have the sincere sympathy of the writer.

Besides these, Mrs. Henkel leaves to mourn her demise, a husband and three children.

SLOW START OF INQUIRY

Lorimer Case Probers Study Helm Committee Report.

Senators Will Take Testimony After Digesting Evidence Obtained in Illinois.

Washington, June 9. — Members of the special committee of the senate appointed to reinvestigate the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois probably will not begin their formal investigation until the middle of next week at the earliest and possibly not before week after next. The committee only received proof sheets of the testimony taken by the Helm investigating committee of the Illinois senate, which contained evidence almost entirely new to the senate, and it is believed it will take the committee at least until Monday to digest this evidence.

In addition, three members of the investigating committee have never before been concerned with the election of the Illinois senator in their official capacity as senators, and it is understood they may wish a little time in which to familiarize themselves with the testimony taken by the previous investigating committee of the senate. The real stumbling block to an immediate opening of the investigation, however, lies in the proposed organization of the investigating committee. Under the terms of the resolution passed by the senate the committee is authorized to hire clerks, accountants and counsel. It is the desire of the committee that all of these officials may be of such standing as to claim the confidence not only of the senate but of the country.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS

League Club is Legally Incorporated in State of New York.

Albany, N. Y., June 9. — "The National Progressive Republican League Club of the State of New York," with principal office in New York city, has been incorporated to promote popular government and progressive legislation, including the initiative, referendum and recall, direct election of United States senators; direct primaries for the nomination of all elective offices, and direct election of delegates to national conventions. The emblem of the club is the rising sun with the word "Excelsior."

CHICAGO AVIATION MEET

James E. Piew in New York Arranging for Event of Aug. 12 to 18.

New York, June 9. — James E. Piew of the Aero Club of Chicago, is in New York to confer with aviators in regard to the big meet to take place in Chicago Aug. 12 to 18.

One of the features is a cross country flight from New York to Chicago with stops at Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany. The plan is for a purse of $30,000 and have each of the cities visited enroute contribute to the fight.

SOOTHED THE SPIRIT

A Preliminary to House Building the Shan States.

House building in the Shan States is not such an easy matter as it looks. Mrs. Leslie Milne, author of "Shans at Home" tells how she arranged for the building of a bamboo house at Nankham, and, though the materials arrived, no progress seemed to be made with the actual construction. "When I first spoke of house building I had been asked what to me seemed an irrelevant question—namely, the day of the week on which I was born. When I answered that it was late on Saturday night or early on Sunday morning I did not know that my reply was of importance. As time went on and the bamboos lay untouched, looking like long green snakes in the grass, I complained of the delay only to be told that until I could tell them my birthday they were afraid to begin work, as the spirits would be angry if the offerings for the proper day were not made. "I suggested that the building should begin, I braving the anger of the spirits, but they thought the work too dangerous, as the risk was not only for me, but for the workmen as well. On consulting a wise man a way was found out of the difficulty. He decreed that an extra large offering to content the spirits of both Saturday and Sunday should be made. This was done, and the building commenced next day."

Not He. "Does he interest himself in books?" "No," sniffed Mrs. Newrich; "my husband has clerks to do that for him."

QUAKE AFFECTS MOST OF MEXICO

Latest Reports Show Wide Extent of Disturbance.

TONILA ENTIRELY DESTROYED

Fifty-Nine Bodies Removed from Ruins in Zapotlan, Which Was Levelled to Ground—Worst Earthquake Since 1882.

City of Mexico, June 9.—Although this city suffered worse than any other place, the earthquake that visited Mexico City extended over the greater part of the republic.

Guadalajara reports that Tonila, a small town on the slope of Colima, a volcanic mountain, was completely destroyed, but the number of killed is not given. Most of the inhabitants, warned by the slight shakes that preceded the heavy shock, fled from the town before the buildings tumbled down. The cathedral was completely destroyed. There were few accidents to persons at Guadalajara and no one was killed.

Passengers arriving here from Guadalajara report that Zapotlan, a small town near Colima, was destroyed and that fifty-nine bodies were taken from the ruins.

The states of Guerrero and Morales, which usually suffer greatly from earthquakes, were only slightly affected by this shock.

The director of the geological institute at Mexico City declares that the quake was the worst since 1882.

SMITH WILL BE FREED

Mission Worker in Cincinnati Probably Innocent of Wife Murder.

Cincinnati, June 9. — Prosecutor Hunt intends to nolle the indictment against Oliver P. Smith, charged with the murder of his wife, a mission worker. Mrs. Smith was found dead in her home here on the night of Jan. 25. She had been beaten to death.

Smith was arrested at Indianapolis. He offered an alibi and a number of persons living between Aurora, Indiana, and Indianapolis, testified they saw him on the road between the two cities at the time his wife was supposed to have been murdered.

Stokes Not Seriously Hurt.

New York, June 9.—The three bullet wounds that W. E. D. Stokes received when two young women, at whose flat in Eightieth street he had called, opened fire on him, are not of such a nature as to cause alarm, according to the doctors who have charge of him at Roosevelt hospital.

BIBLE STUDIES

HEZEKIAH'S GREAT REFORM

II Chronicles 30—June 11

"Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart."—I Samuel 16:7.

KING HEZEKIAH of Judah has a wonderful record as a man of God, a reformer, a patriot, yet he was the son of a bad father, who in turn was the son of a good father, who in turn was the son of a bad father. The alternation between good and bad for four generations illustrates the fact that, although heredity has much to do with every member of our race, nevertheless, there are counter-balances in nature.

We are all members of Adam's family, and as such we are all sharers in the general weakness, mental, moral and physical, which for six thousand years has descended upon us. St. Paul refers to this, saying, "By one man's disobedience sin entered into the world, and death as the result of sin; and thus death passed upon all men, because all are sinners."—Romans 5:12.

The downward or sinful tendency in our very constitution is so strong that none is able fully to overcome it. The best that any of us can do is to set our wills in opposition to our inherited weaknesses and to fight courageously against them. The Apostle assures us that if it were possible for humanity to fully gain such a victory over its fallen self as to bring itself back to perfection, then doubtless God would have provided that way of salvation.

Hezekiah the Reformer

The King's father had introduced idolatrous worship—erecting altars and groves to the worship of Baal. God's temple was strewn with rubbish. Under the direction of the King, the Levites began a cleansing work. It required eight days to carry out the rubbish from the court, etc. Then the priests, who alone were authorized to enter into the Holy, or temple proper, were directed to cleanse the temple itself.

But as a preliminary work, before the cleansing of the court or the temple began, the King directed that the priests and the Levites sanctify themselves afresh to the Lord and His service. How appropriate! How in harmony with the words of the Prophet Isaiah, who lived at that time and who was the King's counselor—"Be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord's house!"—Isa. 62:11.

But let us not forget the instruction of St. Peter upon this subject. Comparing the priesthood of Israel with the institutions of the Christian church, St. Peter gives us the thought that the priests of olden times do not find their antitypes in the clergy of today, but in God's saintly or sanctified people, whether in or out of the public ministry.

Thus St. Peter says to all of the consecrated Church of Christ, "Ye are a Royal Priesthood, a Holy Nation, a peculiar people

Force of Example

In the first place the Royal Bazaar conducted a prize contest and gave away a lot of things—watch fobs, sets of Dickens, trips to Niagara, household magazines, feather dusters, baseball bats and red-eyed ostrich feathers. It was the opera tickets for "The Sultan of Kaboo" that fell to Big Tim and to Maggie.

Big Tim drew left F 63 and Maggie drew right D 19, which are entirely too far apart for lovers. Therefore, Big Tim exchanged tickets with his friend, Sullivan, the ice man. This is how Tim and Maggie came to sit together for the first time in their joyous lives in the parquet of a really splendid theatre.

After Big Tim had found the place for his hat and Maggie had begun on her peppermint chewing gum, two very fine people wedged in past them and sat in F 64-65, adjoining. They were people of so fine a texture that Big Tim couldn't keep his shrewd, gray eyes again from the man's sparkling solitaire, and Maggie knew she would give her eyes for a fluffy, creamy dress like the lady's. And for a minute old, ugly Envy crept in and spoiled the lover's paradise.

But Big Tim soon saw that the man's thin, patrician face was very set and stern, and that the lady, though beautiful, was unhappy. He nudged little Maggie and explained in a horrible audible whisper:

"Mag—Mag—the big bloke's mad as hornets and the lady ain't any ways tickled to death."

"Our temperaments are absolutely incompatible," the lady was saying, wearily. "As far removed as Plato from Cinderella." And she sighed.

The man answered with a look of pain, "It is your perspective, your superactive habit of analytical introspection, 'isie. That is all."

"Listen, Mag!" commanded Big Tim, in another thunderous whisper. "De high society guys is slingin' French. Gee, such woids! Dey'd break your purty jawbone."

"This is the end, Elsie," the man murmured, desperately. "I suppose you will never understand." And Big Tim, hearing, took it upon himself to explain.

"I'll tell you how it is, lady. You see, the Sultan's girl wants to hook up with the W. U. messenger from Rooming, and de Sultan's dead sore on de deal."

The man endeavored to frown Big Tim into silence, but, failing, laughed outright; and the lady gave a little sigh of relief and regarded Tim with twinkling eyes.

"John," she whispered, "the big fellow simply won't let us quarrel. We'll have to wait until we can carry it off in private."

But Big Tim, who possessed a wonderful sense of hearing, had even caught the whisper. He turned to Maggie, who was watching the red headman of Mogadore sing seesaw songs with Little Miss New York off right centre. "Mag," he whispered, so that the man in the box office heard. "It's a lovers' quarrel. Now, if it was me an' you, we'd make up."

And Big Tim kissed the rosy Mag right there in the costly parquet.

The fine lady saw and, somehow, a tiny tear trickled from her brown eyes, down, down, over pretty, pink cheeks, upon the fluffy, creamy gown of Worth. And when Big Tim saw the tear he thought that the man had forced the tiny drop, and he scowled.

But Maggie was tugging at his arm. "Tim," she whispered, "Look. They're together—the lovers—Roxane, the Sultan's daughter, and Fantan, the messenger."

Tim looked and saw that it was true. The brave, royal messenger had the dainty little princess girl in a shell of a boat on a papier-mache sea of blue, and they were singing and cooing. And Big Tim could understand this.

"Oh, Mag!" he cried; and with a hundred insignificant people looking on, he kissed his true love again and again. As he looked up from the last fond salute the fine people were leaving. The lady looked radiantly from her brown eyes.

"Bless you!" she said, as she passed Big Tim; and "Bless you!" she murmured again to Maggie. The man's face was wreathed in smiles.

"You understand now, Elsie," he was saying. "It's just like that."

And he jerked his thumb at Big Tim, who was holding firmly to Maggie's plump, warm hand.—S. D. STONE.

They Meant Business.

A Chicago stage manager was telling of amusing incidents of blunders and errors caused by stage fright. In a romantic play, recently revived, one of the minor characters, a dairy maid, comes forward at the end of the recital of a love romance, and comments as follows:

"Hope filled their youth and whetted their love; they pledged their troth!"

But at one of the performances the girl who played the dairy maid was absent without notice. At the last moment the manager gave the lines to a shepherdess, who had never had lines to speak before, and who was excessively nervous when her cue came. This is what the astonished audience heard:

"Hope filled their trough and blighted their love; they whetted their tooth!"

Happy

"That young couple seem to be enjoying themselves immensely. Are they married?"

"Yes, but not to each other."

Practical Information for Critical Piano Purchasers.

Chapter II., TONE.

The action is the mechanism which imparts the blow from the finger to the hammer and thence to the strings. Each key should work exactly the same, easily, smoothly, repeat rapidly and respond to the slightest touch. No one who is well informed will accept a piano, whose action does not contain a brass hammer-flange.

This prevents the rattling so often heard in pianos in heated rooms and also prevents hammers from getting out of place.

The action parts should be well finished and finely adjusted. Only the best pianos have actions embracing all the above conditions.
